Australian and New Zealand Cultural Arts Limited is a non-profit examining body of the performing arts. It was formed in 1983, in response to a growing need amongst private music teachers for an examination system catering for a greater diversity of musical styles. In recognizing the vital role modern music plays, especially amongst the young, ANZCA has set out to design its syllabi to cater for both classical and modern streams.

ANZCA hopes to stimulate and excite musicians by providing syllabi that are at once refreshing and educational. All aspects of the syllabi, including scales, aural tests, sight reading and improvisation, have been arranged in a logical sequential order with due regard to the educational merit underlying each requirement.

Modern and classical syllabi are currently available for pianoforte, organ, guitar, singing, trumpet and flute, as well as contemporary syllabi for keyboard, mandolin, bass, drumset, trombone, clarinet, saxophone, accordion, recorder, strings and theory of music. Group examinations are offered for Classical Singing (Grade 2), Recorder (Preliminary to Grade 3), String Quartet (four levels) and Piano Duet (six levels).

The classical syllabi have been carefully compiled, with great attention being paid to setting interesting and musical pieces, especially at the junior levels. In most instruments, a Free Choice list from Grade Four allows students to perform a modern piece if they choose. In the modern syllabi, students are encouraged to improvise and arrange pieces, and from Grade Four can elect to play a classical piece for the Free Choice section.

ANZCA has been at the forefront in developing modern stream examinations in all instruments, and will continue to work on improving and extending both the classical and modern syllabi.

GENERAL INFORMATION: WOODWIND

Technical Work
1. Technical work should be played evenly and without undue accentuation. Students are expected to observe tempo indications where given.

Page Turning
2. Examiners are not to be asked to turn pages. It is the responsibility of teachers and candidates to ensure continuity of performance without disruption for page turns.

Lists and Editions
3. Except for the Free Choice selection, all pieces presented must be drawn from the lists set for the respective grade.
4. Modern-stream works must be performed from the editions listed in the syllabus. For classical-stream works, any standard edition may be used.

Free Choice Lists
5. ANZCA does not arbitrate on Free Choice selections. It is the responsibility of the teacher to choose a suitable solo of the correct standard for the grade.

Accompaniment and Backing Tracks
6. For Preliminary and Grade One, at least one piece must be accompanied. From Grade Two, at least two pieces must be accompanied.
7. An accompanist will be allowed in the examination room only for the performance of the accompanied pieces. The accompaniment scores must be left in the room for general knowledge purposes.
8. Recorded backing tracks may be used, in formats including CD, midi file, MP3, etc. It is the candidate’s responsibility to provide suitable playback equipment, and tracks must be cued or instantly accessible to avoid delays in the examination room. The accompaniment score must be available in the room for general knowledge purposes.

Diploma Examinations
9. Completed prerequisites must be included on the entry form.
10. Assessment: Honours, Pass or Not Satisfactory.
11. Further information on all diploma examinations is given in the Diploma Examination Handbook, available from the ANZCA office.

Equipment
12. Candidates must supply their own instrument and any additional equipment required, such as amplifiers, effects units, music stands, etc.

Tuning
13. Instruments should be tuned immediately before the examination. It is not the role of the examiner to tune the candidate’s instrument, nor is there time to tune in the examination room (except for fine tuning to the piano where required). Failure to observe this procedure could result, due to time constraints, in examiners being unable to hear all of the prepared work, with marks deducted accordingly.
